

PITTSBURGH'S KEN HOROHO NAMED TO "IRISH LEGAL 100"

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Kenneth J. Horoho, a partner in the Pittsburgh law firm of Goldberg, Gruener, Gentile, Horoho & Avalli, P.C., has been named to the "Irish Legal 100," honoring the leading attorneys of Irish heritage in America.

Mr. Horoho was recognized along with the other honorees at a reception and award ceremony at the Irish Consulate in New York City last week. Also honored at this ceremony were U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice John G. Roberts, Justice Anthony Kennedy, Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice Seamus McCaffrey, former U.S. Senator George Mitchell, and a variety of distinguished lawyers, judges and law professors.

This latest honor comes on the heels of a number of tributes for Mr. Horoho since serving as president of the 30,000 member Pennsylvania Bar Association in 2006. Last year, he was recognized by his peers for his divorce and family law practice by being named by Woodard-White to their 25th Anniversary Edition of The Best Lawyers In America.

In addition to this distinction, Mr. Horoho has a long history as a leader in the area of child custody law and is active in state, local and national bar association activities.

He has been a member of the PBA House of Delegates since 1990, has chaired the PBA Planning Committee and served as PBA Zone 12 (Allegheny County) governor on the PBA Board of Governors. He was chair of the PBA Young Lawyers Division in 1991 and a vice-chair of the PBA Children's Rights Committee, and the PBA Membership Development Committee.

Mr. Horoho served for six years on the Executive Council of the PBA Family Law Section, and for twelve years on the Allegheny County Bar Association's Board of Governors. He was chairperson of the ACBA's Family Law and Young Lawyer Sections. He served in the ABA House of Delegates in 1991 and 1992, and was a member of the executive counsel of the American Bar Association Young Lawyer Division, and vice-chairperson of the ABA/YLD Children and the Law Committee.

In addition, in January 2005 Mr. Horoho was named as an adjunct professor on the faculty of the University of Pittsburgh School of Law. He teaches a course on advanced family law trial advocacy.

He is a graduate of St. Francis University and the Duquesne University School of Law, where he was a staff member of Juris Magazine and served on the Appellate Moot Court Board. He also served on the Pennsylvania Trial Lawyers Association Board of Directors in 1990 and 1991, and has been admitted to the U.S. Tax Court and the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

About Goldberg, Gruener, Gentile, Horoho & Avalli, P.C.

Distinguished in the practice of family and matrimonial law, Goldberg, Gruener, Gentile, Horoho & Avalli, P.C., represents clients engaged in serious, contentious or high-net-worth divorce or separation. Our firm also provides counsel in estate and trust law.

GGGH&A was instrumental in developing the codes, such as the divorce code, that govern practice areas. Our attorneys have assumed leadership roles in organizations including the Pennsylvania Bar Association and the Allegheny County Bar Association and hold positions as distinguished faculty and lecturers at area law schools. GGGH&A is ranked #1 and has more listed lawyers in Best Lawyers® in the field of family law than any other firm in the City of Pittsburgh and in the State of Pennsylvania.